

THE FRONTIERS ARE MY PRISON

sometimes you have to run against a wall, even if you know that it will not be the wall but you breaking down - but this moment - not turning back - it's about dignity. eventually it's these moments which become the cracks that turn the walls to ruins while armies, weapons, ammunition and war-machines are crossing borders everywhere to expand or preserve power, to kill while commodities cross the globe to be delivered to the door of those with money, in the blink of an eye while technology is reaching every dark and unknown corner of this earth and of our lives, without boundaries they incarcerate thousands on their borders, let people drown in masses in the sea, deport them into war and misery let's attack the structures, profiteers and those responsible for their border systems let 's attack all states and authority solidarity with the accused rebels of the demonstration against all borders at the brenner pass 2016 - at the italian-austrian border. in 2016, in order to stop people on the move trying to reach northern europe from italy, austria had decided to build a wall at the brenner pass, one of the most used. with a combative demonstration these plans were confronted in an internationalist action. now comrades in italy face years of imprisonment and house arrest.

let 's make sure they will not be alone in this let `s make sure that solidarity knows no borders!

FREEDOM FOR ALL!
